Hollerin Space Phillips County Arkansas * FIRST EDITION Greenbook *

rogue Black travelers guide

An aerial photograph of a river meandering through a dense, green forest. The river is a light blue-grey color, contrasting with the dark green of the trees. The landscape is hilly, with the river flowing through valleys. The sky is a pale, hazy blue.

We had a pump. In Ratio.
Pump it and get a barrel and save it. Lyme would keep it clear. My mom when she had babies would boil the water.
We didn't have a hybrid.
You could see the yellow stuff in the bottom. That's why i do not drink the

HOLD ON BLUE HOLE HOMECOMING

WATER SOUND MOBILE MACHINE

This migrating architecture follows the tradition of Blues folks who carry songs and memories on the long journey road. We are Black land and our movement is life giving and electric. Migrating architecture is a collective story circle cipher, flicker in the night, Black, planet deep South, Up South, lightning bright. We make home wherever we are. Pitching tents and parking up, we make something out of something. Our HOLD ON Blue Hole homecoming machine is designed to function with multiple systems: DJ booth, natural filtration water cistern system, and light projection.

Current community and presenting partners include: Hollerin Space, National Performance Network, Museum of Black Joy, Foxfire Ranch, SIPP Culture, ATNSC, Water Stories Project of Phillips County Arkansas, One Nation/One Project, Alternate ROOTS, Black Spatial Relics, Independence Public Media Fund, Makeda Lewis, Charmaine Minniefield/ New Freedom Project, Kim Pevia/ K.A.P. INSPIRATION 3 - MISSISSIPPI NATIVE BURIAL SOCIAL MOUND

HOW I SURVIVE FROM A 14-YEAR-OLD

by Ariel Stocker

I survive by listening and spending time with my mom. We get in the kitchen and just cook together. This is what we like to call Momma and Daughter time. This, to me, is what being a mother is all about—spending time with your children. She is my strength and my rock, next to Jesus that is. She always tells me to put God first and nothing can go wrong. We have so much fun when we are cooking, time just passes right on by us.

We are homebodies but we still go do our shopping. It's a girl thing. We are being very protective with masks and washing our hands. We go out when it is necessary for us to, but mostly I would say we stay in and cook. Nothing better for a fourteen year old than to have some kind of responsibility that can keep us out of trouble and harm's way.

One thing that we really like to cook together is Chicken Fried Rice.
